I like to sleep some after din-ner; post-mealtime slumber is a winner, it makes a hit with me; but when I'd do some fancy snoring, all kinds of pounding, ripping, roaring, start up immediately. About a thousand dogs assemble, close by, and make the welkin tremble, with barks and yips and yowls; the cattle all get busy lowing, and I can hear the bughouse crowing of countless nutty fowls. Out in the kitchen the domestic, a damsel haughty and majestic, drops dishes on the floor, and grocers' boys and cranks and peddlers, and fifty other kinds of meddlers, are thumping at the door. I can't describe a fourth or third of the blamedest din you ever heard of -a Dante it demands when I of snores would have a number, a little sleep, a little slumber, some folding of the hands. I rise, all sore and katzenjamming, denouncing all the frantic slamming, the rumpus and the rush; and now that noise would be no matter, there is an end to fuss and clatter, there comes a solemn WALT MASON.

CHARTER IS RESTORED TO BOOKBINDERS' UNION

Local Dispute Is Settled on Its Appeal to the International Association.

Appeal to the courts by local Bookbinders' Union, No. 4. for an injunction to restrain the international body from suspending it has been settled by the on assembled in Indianapolis, Ind., last week. The convention overprotested against the seating of delegates of No. 4. The convention voted vote; also to restore the charter of No. 4. This official statement was issued by E. A. Rabbi Abramson Urges Jewish Parents to Teach Lessons of Judaism. Rabbi Morris M. Abramson of Niagra Falls, N. Y., has been called to become rabbi of the Ahove Sholem Jewish Temple, at 5th and I streets northwest and delivered his first lecture there yesterday at 10 o'clock. "The American Youth" was his topic. During his dis course the rabbi took occasion to point out to his hearers that in this land of iberty the Jewish parents should do all in their power to see that the youth cling closer to its tenets. This duty, he declared, is being neglected by many Jewish parents.

The rabbi, who has been in charge of the work at Adath Israel Congregation of Niagara Falls, is expected to announce his decision in regard to the call here within a day or so.

He plans to address the Sunday school of the Ahove Sholem Congregation at its meeting to be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

Then there is Eleanor, whose first concern took a physical turn. She wanted to know exactly what she was made of. So she went to her grandfather for details.

"The Bible tells us, my child, that God made us out of dust."

It was a surprise, but Eleanor accepted the fact.

"My! God must do a lot of sweeping!"

It was the primitive mind measuring infinity by the only gauge it knew—the dustpan—a baby intelligence in the act of growing.

Consider, also, the colored kiddle—name unknown—who was sitting on the curb prodding a worm, as a young white man came along. He was such a dead-in-earnest kiddle that he had to hold up the man for information.

TO EXEMPLIFY DEGREE.

"Printers' Night in Odd Fellowship" to Be Held Wednesday.

The first degree of Odd Fellowship will be exemplified at the "printers night in Odd Fellowship" Wednesday evening in the lodgeroom of Federal City Lodge, Northeast Temple, 12th and be able to complete the regular courses in less than the prescribed time. It would also be possible for students who had failed to make up their work. In this manner, it is believed, the government would in the last analysis be saved money.

Similar experiments, carried on in conjunction with the school play-grounds, for the benefit of grade school children, and under the direction of the school officials, have been proved successful during the last two years. It is probable that the number carried on this year will be larger than that of former years.

The experimental high school is to have as its teachers, in addition to Miss Deal, Miss Bertha Gardner, Mrs. Edith Compton Paul, Miss Genevieve Marsh. William C. Myers, Miss Jeanne Maret and George R. Devitt.
